Providing insight and understanding to make informed health decisions

Our in-home assessment programs provide health plan’s the ability to engage, assess and educate—connecting members to the plan benefits, services and local resources they need.

Led by experienced and caring Nurse Practitioners, these personalized interactions happen in the comfort of home, and are uniquely designed to address health concerns, medication adherence, or socioeconomic needs that can be hard to identify in a provider’s office. We’ll then provide the member and their primary care provider (PCP) with full visit summaries so their provider can lead informed follow-ups.

Early detection is vital to supporting positive outcomes for chronic conditions

More and more, patients are growing accustomed to the convenience of receiving quality care in the home. Those with chronic or undiagnosed health needs are especially in need of ongoing, accessible care and support to understand and manage their conditions.

The benefits of identifying risk and improving access to care through home-based assessments.

- Affordability: Leverage the clinical data coded and collected to optimize reimbursement through Risk Adjustment Factor (RAF) score adjustments associated with and higher acuity patients.
- Engagement: Assessments provide a window into individual care needs and health literacy opportunities that help re-engage patients to stay on track with their care plans.
- Coordination: Comprehensive health assessment data helps clients see members who need interventions (disease management, chronic care programs, medication therapy management, etc.) and coordinate care without delay.
- Quality: We capture quality measures that impact STARS scores, influence CAHPS results and identify social determinants of health (SDOH) needs.
- Equity: Home-based assessments and gap closures help serve patients who are disconnected or have barriers to accessing traditional brick-and-mortar sites of care.
